NEW

Magazine tube extension kit

Magazine Extension Kit is a Magazine Tube Extension Kit to hold the extra 10 rounds of ammo. The lightweight magazine tube extension increases the capacity of standard magazines. It's designed to be durable and strong for the mounting of additional tactical upgrades. The kit includes a heavy-duty stainless steel 1.5" x 11" shaft to guide extended spring, and the extension tube. Made from solid aluminum that is heat-treated and anodized for maximum wear-resistance. The top of the extension has a built-in mounting or carry groove with a locking pin. The kit also offers the ability to use an offset slide mount to get a mag forward.

High-threat barrier system

The High-Threat Barrier System is the first truly shatter-resistant high-threat barrier system for riot and high-profile security events. Constructed in glass blocks of polycarbonate, the barrier block can stand up to the toughest, toughest law enforcement use. The barrier block can be used as a temporary or permanent barrier for officers, courthouses, banks, city halls, state capitols, police stations, government facilities, and all public protection.

The barrier block system is compatible with the frame members, support legs, connecting hardware and the optional doors with the same shatter-resistant protection. The barrier block can work as a stand-alone barrier or connected together.
